

Teachers Answers for Nailing Down Energy

Students will need to plot their information using standard graph paper. From this graph, have them answer the question.

Students can now determine how the solar array panels on the Space Station need to be positioned towards the sun to provide adequate power to the Space Station. Discuss angles of the sun, solar array panels, and the Space Station itself. Students can draw pictures, diagrams, etc. to explain their thinking.